

Vets for Holistic Transformation Conference

DAY

Dr. Janet Roark

1

Part 1: Becoming a Healer in Your Own Home Using Essential Oils

Dr. Janet shows you how we can use essential oils in our pets. One point is how safe they are, and we can see how they get absorbed. You can use them for behavior!

Julie Ann Lee, DCH, RCSHom

Part 1: Navigating the Transition from Conventional to Holistic

Julie Anne reveals how you can decide what type of veterinarian you should be getting for you. Lots of ideas on how to screen the veterinarian to see if s/he is the one you want.

Dr. Christina Chambreau

2

Part 1: Finding and Keeping a Great Holistic Vet

How can you find a holistic veterinarian that matches what you want? Where can your source them and how can you work with one that doesn't match your every requirement?

Dr. Andrew Jones

Part 1: Introduction to Holistic Home Remedies

Dr. Jones looks at some home remedies you can try, including DMSO, some natural antibiotics, quercetin, slippery elm, and castor oil.

Dr. Dody Tyneway Robi

3

Part 1: What Should we be Feeding Our Cats?

Dody looks at what we need to feed cats and how best to meet their needs.

Ingrid King

Part 1: Feeding Your Cat for Optimal Health

What do cats need to fulfill them? What is the problem seen in commercial cat foods?

Kate Solisti

4

Part 1: First: Ask the Right Questions, Second: Do No Harm

Kate tells us some stories about how communication works with animals. See what it can reveal, especially in terms of what is medically wrong with the pet.

Christine Noble Seller

Part 1: What is Possible Through Animal Communication

Find out what animal communication is (and isn't).

Miranda Alcott, MA, CHH

5

Part 1: Animal Communication Through Stories

Miranda, an animal communicator, shows us what she has learned from animals where the stories impact the owner. See what the cat said!

Dr. Meghan Barrett

Part 1: Harmonious Homes: Exploring the Importance of Sound Awareness for Pet Owners

Harmonious Homes: Exploring the Importance of Sound Awareness for Pet Owners

Anke Herrmann

6

Part 1: Trust Your Magnificent Mind and Tap into Innate Confidence and Intuition

Anke looks at when she adopted a street dog and the immense decisions she had to make. She then looked at how to make decisions using intuition

Eleni Gkikakis

Part 1: What's next after you hear: "there is nothing more we can do?"

A wonderful, inspiring talk about hope and how communication can assist. Ever thought that there can be a better way. Eleni tells us about her horse and a cat that she talked to as examples.

Dr. Judy Morgan

7

Part 1: Three Ways to Save Money While Saving Your Pet's Life

Vaccinations - how often are they actually needed? You will be surprised at what we are doing wrong. And an intro into the issue with commercial food.

Dr. Rob Silver

Part 1: Understanding Allergic Pets and Delving into Gut Health

Doc Rob reviews allergies and how to diagnose them. Did you know that there is a difference between fish oils in how allergic they are? And, how you can limit reactions through injectable or oral hyposensitization.

Liza Weaver

8

Part 1: Treat the Root Cause Versus Chasing Symptoms

Liza delves into a method to feed that addresses the root cause of any disorder versus chasing symptoms. Part of it is using the Traditional Chinese Medicine principles of warming and cooling foods.

Penny Zoolittle

Part 1: Holistic Health - a Paradigm Shift in Pet Care

Penny shows us that health is not a drug, a vet, or therapy. It is correcting imbalances so that we can "Dying Young as Late as Possible".

Chelsea Kent

9

Part 1: How Diet can Improve or Poison Health

Chelsea reveals some of the ways that diet (and environment) can affect health. It is amazing what testing can reveal!

Dr. Angie Krause

Part 1: How to Pick a Pet Food

Find out the ins and outs of picking food - what we need to consider when making a choice.